Lingnan University at Canton suspended all classes in order to permit its students to attend lectures on the agrarian reform scheduled to take place in Kwangtung. The lecture program is to be followed by practical work assisting land officials in carrying out the reform. Other universities in Canton are also giving such lecture courses preparing students as assistants for the land reform program.*

the Kwangtung authorities established a "Revolutionary Cadre Training School" in each administrative area and a "Revolutionary Cadre Training Class" and a "Farmers' Cadre Training Class" in each hsien. These schools and classes aim at political training of key personnel of labor unions, farmers' unions, and militia units. The more important persons attend the Revolutionary Cadre Training School.

The classes are operated and controlled by the members of the local Land Reform Committee in each administrative area or by the magistrate of each hsien. They are under the over-all supervision of the Kwangtung Culture and Education Committee. The training course lasts a month in both schools and classes and is scheduled to be completed for the entire province. Subjects, the same in both schools and classes but taught in more detail in the schools, include current affairs, principles of land reform, history of the class struggle, and "mobilization and organization of the mob".
